

Supported using public funding by
ARTS COUNCIL ENGLAND

Produced by ScreenSkills with support from the Animation Skills Council and supported using public funding by Arts Council England

With special thanks to Lupus Films, HarperCollins Children's Books, Universal Pictures, Channel 4 Television and Jane Hutchison

Thanks also to Into Film, Chocolate Films

All media from The Tiger Who Came to Tea is used with kind permission of Tiger Tea Productions

Design by Dave Gray (iamdavegray.com)

Icons based on an original concept by Ian Murphy and Allan Burrell (compositingcoach.com)

My animation project

My name: .....

My class: .....

Storyboard artist

Sound designer

Art director

Composer

Background designer

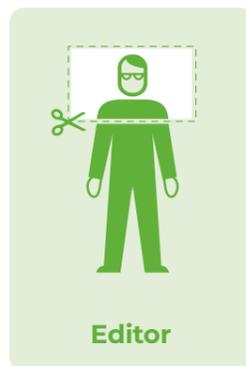

Sales executive

Animator

Director

Editor

Layout artist

Producer

Lighting artist

Plenary

- How important was your role to the final product?
- Did you enjoy your role in the project?
- Was there a role you would rather have been doing and why?
- Were there any roles missing from your sticky notes?

Evaluation

- How do you feel about your animation?
- Did you meet the objective?
- Did anything unexpected happen?
- Are there any improvements you could make?

Six stages of production from The Tiger Who Came to Tea

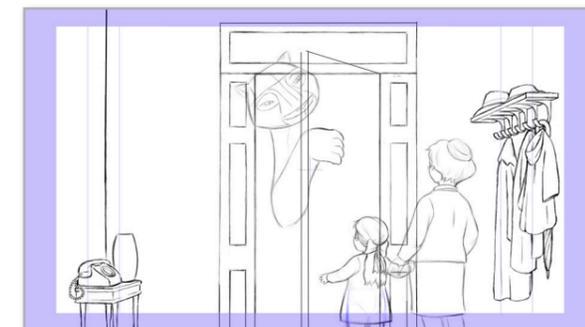

Draw a line from the job role to the artwork

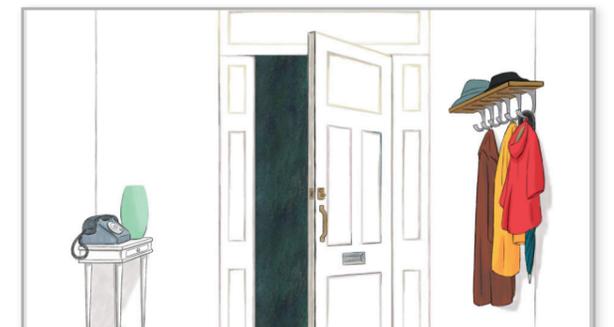

Storyboard

Layout

Animation

Background

Artwork

Final composition

What story do you want to tell?

My artwork

My Team

Job	Job description	Name
Director	In charge	?

My storyboard

--

--

--

--

--

--

--

--

--

--

--

--

--

--

--

--